WEATHER PROBABILITIES,—For this section, fair tonight and Wednesdaw; moderate temperatures; light to fresh southwesterly winds.

THE GAZETTE will not be published tomorrow-Christmas Day.

CHRISTMAS.—We are on the eve of the Christmas of 1901, and with the the Christmes of 1901, and with the riss of tomorrow's sun young and old will mingle in expressions of joyous-ness, the natural accompaniments of the occasion. Busy housewives have been engaged for over a week past in preparing for the day. Larders have been stocked, presents purchased, and the thousand and one little things which enter one way and another into Ohristmas have been procured. It is carnestly hoped that the realizations of all may exceed the anticipations and that the greatest of all holidays in the calcodar will be fully enjoyed. The storekeepers have been busy during the past two or three weeks providing for the wants of their customers, and they have about anticipated them all. Toys have been epread along the pavements, show windows rearranged, electric lights in some instances introduced and every contrivance possible utilized to reader the stores attractive. By tomorrow morning there will be but little left in them in the way of holiday supplies. The rising generation will Christmas have been procured. It is supplies. The rising generation will retire tonight with bright visions of the morrow and will probably begin their exploration for Santa Claus's County at an early bour. As is usual in Alexanan early bour. As is usual in Alexandria but little business will be transacted during the day. The banks and public offices will be closed and the telegraph and telephone and post offices will keep Sunday hours. Most of the stores will close to the afternoon. It is hoped that all may enjoy themselves and that there will be many pleasant memories of the Christmas of 1901.

MARRIAGE LICENSES. - Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yes-terday to the following: Philip Smith and Auna Toumbler, both of Fairfax county; George W. Wakefeld and Rosae Keck, both of Richmond; Mal-colm K. Pannam and Elizabath H. Mary colm K. Putnam and Elizabeth H. May-Kay and Hattie W. Lester, both of Richmond; Walter F. Hos sty and Ida V. Murrsy, of Culpeper county; John W. Weeler and Cinderella Street, both of Richmond; William H. Calvert and Bettie Florence, both of Prince William county; Charles H Green, of Richmond and Martha A. Holmes, of Parksburg, Pa., Sohn Kerns and Mary Hunt, of Alexandris; and Joseph E. Wander and Annie E Smith.

The following licenses were issued in hew, both of Fauguier county; Harry S. Kay and Hattie W. Lester, both of Rich-

THE WEATHER is again clear and bright, with indications of pleasant meteorological conditions for tomorrow. The weather, yesterday savored of that of St. Patrick's Day, There were rain, nail, soow and sleet and gloom spread over the entire city. Outside operation were seriously interfered with and storekeepers were by no means as busy as is generally the case two days before Christmas. The streets were covered with sleet early in the night, and walking this morning was accomplished in most cases with fear and trembling. The timid took the midd e of the street the pavements being veneered as with the pavements being veneered as with glass and offering very uncertain footholds. Several people had falls during the day, but so far as known none sustainep serious injury. As the sun rose the temperature began to climb also, and with the gentle southerly breezy the latest of the street in a drunken condition and with the gentle southerly breezy the street in a drunken condition. The Alexandra was picked up to the street in a drunken condition.

FINAL PREPARATIONS. - The fine weather brought many people into the streets today, and there was more animation than at any other time during the past few days. The stores seemed to be doing well, as throngs were passed in and out of them all day. The market house also presented a busy appearance, and a large number of purchasers were surging to and fro making selections for tomorrow's dinner. Tur-keys were high, prices raging from 18 to 20 cents a pound. The mild weather, however, later in the day weskened these prices somewhat.

LECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the regular monthly meeting of Alexandria
Ouncil, No. 665, National Union, last night the following officers were elected: President, F. A. Bayne; ex-president, W. Woody; vice president, V. P. Henshaw; recording secretary, J. H. Bartlett; financial secretary, C. H. Davis; treasurer, James McCuer; chaplain; Thomas Burroughs; usher; T. U. Fairfax; sergeant, J. A. Scrivener; doorkeeper; M. R. Norris; reporter; James H. Bayne; trustees; T. Burroughs, H. Friedlander, and Thomas H. Bayne.

CHURCH SERVICES -Tomorrow being Christmas, services will be held in Christmas, services will be held in many of the churches of the city. Several of them have been prettily decorated for the occasion. The services will be as follows: St. Mary's, 5, 6, 9 and 10 s. m.; Christ Church, 11 s. m.; St. Paul's, at 11 s. m.; Grace, at 7 and 11 a. m; M. P. Church at 6 s. m; Immanuel Lutheran, st 11 s. m.; Tricity M. E. at 6 s. m.; M. E. Church South at 6 s. m.

CHARTER.—Judge Norton has granted a charter to the Mcore & Hill Company, the object of which is to conduct a general real estate business. The capital stock is $50,000, and Mr. 6. L. Boothe is named as the local atterney. D. A. Moore is president and W. A. Hill vice president, both of Washington County Court.—Judge J. M. Love, presiding.—After the Gazette's report closed yesterday many cases, both civil and criminal, were continued until the next term. The application of Crandsi Mackey and others for a new road near Rosslyn was called. The opponents of the new road, by counsel, interposed a motion to quash the report of the viewers. The judge sustained the motion and the case was sent back to the commissioners, or viewers, for a supplemental report.

to send for the prisoner without delay and take him to the penicentiary.

The motion of John N. Garrison, William M. Ball, John Baldin and others for a new county road from near Mount Oliv-t Church through North Ballston to the new town of Clarendon, in Alexandria county, was set for trial on Monday morning next at 10 o'clock. The court dismissed the case of the Tax Title Company of Virginia against Mrs. C. E. M. Ostrander, in which the said company was seeking to obtain title to said land by simply paying the back taxes. The judge decided that the company had not preceded in accordance with law. Leters of administration were granted to the sheriff upon the estate of William North Ballston to the new town of the sheriff upon the estate of William Walker, late of the Alexandria county, deceased. The court adjourned until Monday morning next, December 80.

THE RIVER.—The bosom of the river is still a mass of fragments of ice carried up and down by the tide, while the docks and flats are covered. The mild weather of today, however, is gradually breaking it up, and should the present temperature and sunshine continue a day or two longer there will remain but little evidence of the late blizzard. The river steamers are making their trips as usual, although they experience difficulty in entering creeks and river on the lower Potomac, and consequently arrive hours behind time. Steamers on the Norfolk route are im-peded but little in making heir trips between the two cities. The steamer which came up this morning was about on time. She struck a fog bank at Indian Head which extended almost to this city. She reports passing a tow of oyster vessels during the night.

QUIET CHRISTMAS.—The approach of Carletmes this year has been characterized by more quietness than has been observed by the oldest inhabitants been observed by the oldest inhabitants and many there be who rejoice in the charge. It was, however, not the intention of Mayor Simpson to stop all the usual accompaniments of the season, but the unnecessary blowing of horns and the discharge of explosives days in advance was regarded as obnoxious. It was the cannon-crackers, satisfied in stole and the components of the store of The following licenses were issued in Baltimore; William H.
